

Some Thoughts To Ponder

Everyone needs to be loved...especially when they do not deserve it.

Everything has beauty but not everyone sees it.

To get out of a difficulty, one usually must go through it.

Love is the only thing that can be divided without being diminished.